

Business Community

- Corona is home to 153,619 people and a rich economic environment
- The region has a history of agriculture with once dominant citrus orchards, ranches, and dairy farms
- The development of commerce and industry in the city has been accelerated by congestion on the Riverside Freeway, with many firms leaving northern Orange County to be closer to their employees' homes in Corona and Riverside
- Companies benefit from a strong transportation infrastructure, skilled workforce, and low cost of business
